

VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR 2020

Any one who is chosen for Volunteer of the Year gets their picture on the wall.

Some deserved fine praise, a gift certificate, acknowledgement and that's not all

However, this person is special and we know her for the work she has done.

A definite voice, with great suggestions, always concerned for everyone.

She took an office when no one else was willing or we simply couldn't fill.

Volunteering at many positions, any event and told me often, "I will."

She Volunteers, making quilts, tummy pillows, masks, & hats to name a few.

Willing to make our occasional newsletters interesting and colorful too.

Sorting Hospice Roses, making the paperwork complete out in that cold entry way.

Never complaining, always helping others, when needed always willing to stay

She in many ways is my mentor when I need to be shown a thing or two.

A leader and a high ranking officer at the local Elks Club, to name a few.

Dedicated, serious and determined to be strong when health issues appear.

We congratulate Becky Stone who is a true, Volunteer of the Year,

Margo Johnson, Chairman
B.G.H. Volunteer Council
